

CanadaOne

There's only one name in Canadian shipping – Purolator International.

The bulk of your shipping is probably domestic, and yet Canada, which is typically only 5-10% of your transportation spend, takes a far greater portion of your time. Multiple vendors, confusing and often unreliable reporting, increased need for coordination, and more hand-offs mean more work for you.

Purolator International, a subsidiary of Purolator Inc., a leading integrated freight, package, and logistics solutions provider in Canada, can help you streamline your northbound activity.

The Only Solution for Canada

With Purolator International, your shipping is managed by Canadian experts:

- The most experience crossing the border – more than 20 years
- Unmatched Canadian network – #1 ground and air distribution network in Canada
- Servicing the most destinations in Canada – 100% reach for both commercial and residential addresses
- The ultimate experience with our PuroTouch service – a dedicated account representative who proactively manages your entire Canadian account
- Well respected – Inbound Logistics 2017 Top 100 3PL Provider
- The lowest loss ratio – less than 1% loss and damage claims rate
- Ability to provide a single point of contact for all your Canadian cross-border needs

Beyond Transportation

The benefits of working with Purolator International start long before the first shipment and extend far beyond delivery. We will

- analyze your current operations and build a custom logistics solution using the optimal shipping routes;
- create efficiencies that save you money in the long term;
- provide you with metrics and tools to refine your shipments and adjust your supply chain;
- allow you to analyze your overall business in more meaningful ways; and
- give your customers better service.

When you ship with Purolator International, you can enjoy the peace of mind that comes with having one point of contact.

Schedule a call with us today, and discover how switching to a single Canadian vendor can rebalance the time you spend on shipping.